

Westerly Hears Burglar Is Captured

Crook Who Operated In Pawcatuck and Elsewhere Nabbed In Mystic—Providence Young Men In Canoe Reach Quonocottaug—Sheriff Casey and Howard Chase Return Safely Tuesday—Westerly Band May Join Union.

There has been a series of burglaries and burglars attempts in Westerly during the past month and the offenders have succeeded in making clean getaways, though they were followed by leaden messages in two instances. Now operations have been transferred just over the border line to the village of Pawcatuck, two places being visited since Monday evening. An attempt was made to force entrance to the E. W. Carpenter company clothing store on the bridge by a rear window route. Just before midnight, John W. Berry, who conducts a restaurant near the bridge, heard an unusual sound in the rear, which has a large open doorway into Cogswell street. Three men were seen in the restaurant at the time and their attention was called to the clicking sound. Finally Mr. Berry went out to the rear of the building, but could see no one, but the click-click sound continued.

Finally, Alvin Thompson, a young man who has but one arm, went out to investigate and proceeded direct to the rear of the Carpenter store. He had been recommended by a few minutes when he started hastily for help for a man who had been crouching behind a large discarded sign grabbed him by the legs and threw him to the ground. Then the half-dressed men in the restaurant hurried to the back door. There they were met by the hold up men, who were armed in each hand and ordered to halt or take a dose of rapid fire lead. This order was obeyed and the intruder backed off slowly into Cogswell street and disappeared in the direction of the railroad bridge.

The steward of the Workingmen's club room, off West Broad street, upon opening the rooms early Tuesday morning, discovered that the place had been entered by a burglar. A small window about twelve feet from the ground had been left open, but was covered by a wire screen, and entrance and exit was made through that window. The indications are that picket fencing was placed against the side of the building up to the burglar, and he gained entrance.

So far as ascertained only 250 in cash and some cigars were taken. It is believed that the burglar who attempted to break into the Carpenter store is the same who made the nocturnal visit to the Workingmen's club. In the opinion of the Westerly police, the man is the same who entered the Benson and Peters stores in Main street three weeks ago. This opinion is based on the fact that at each of these places the same method of removing door panels was followed. A sharp one-inch blade chisel was used, the panel cut along the edge, and pushed in when entrance was made to the main store room, but before this was done the burglar had removed the panel from the Carpenter store, it would have been an easy matter to have broken the door from its place, opened the door and so have free access to the store.

After entrance was gained to the Workingmen's club in order to get at the steward's room it was necessary to get through two locked doors. The first door, a paneled door, was passed through by the burglar, but the second door was of heavier construction. An attempt was made to open this door by the use of some similar instrument, but without success. Then the door near the lock was cut away with a sharp chisel and forced open, damaging the lock beyond repair.

Mr. Berry got a good look at the burglar who attempted to break in the Carpenter store, and in position that he could readily identify him. He was smooth shaven, about 45 years of age and of medium height, and weighs about 150 pounds; wore a dark suit of clothes and a derby hat.

A man answering this description was arrested by Officer Foley in Mystic, early Tuesday morning, upon information of an employee of the Groton & Stonington trolley road, who lives near the railroad station. Officer Foley followed the man and re-entered the station by forcing and raising a window. Officer Foley searched the man but failed to find either a revolver or a pistol. The prisoner had in possession $2 in bills and some change, a large and very sharp knife, a saw, a screw driver, a bunch of keys, several of the skeleton pattern, and a lot of cigars.

This information was received from Officer Foley by Policeman Frederick T. Mitchell of Westerly, who became interested in the case in the belief that the prisoner may have connection with the robberies at the Benson and Peters stores in Westerly.

John W. Berry and E. Warren Carpenter went to Mystic Tuesday afternoon and Mr. Berry readily identified him as the man who attempted to enter the Carpenter store. He will be held for the superior court on the charge of breaking and entering the mystic station and attempting to enter the E. W. Carpenter company.

Gus Reiss and Charles Garmley, the young fellows who have paddled their own boats from the Providence to Atlantic City and are now on the return trip, reached Quonocottaug late Monday afternoon. They experienced considerable rough weather along the coast, but managed to avoid accident of serious nature.

They reached Noank Sunday night and for the first time since they left Providence they slept in a bed. After a comfortable night's rest they left Noank Monday morning, and did not land until they reached Quonocottaug. They will paddle from Quonocottaug to Block Island and expect to arrive in Providence in about ten days.

Deputy Sheriff William H. Casey and Howard Chase, who left Westerly Saturday morning for a fishing trip at Block Island, and who were reported lost on Monday, arrived in the Pawcatuck river in Mr. Casey's power boat Tuesday afternoon. Sheriff Casey says there was no occasion as to alarm for their safety, as he was taking no hazardous chances and had no intention of returning to Westerly until the sea was as calm as inland. He experienced some rough weather, but no worse than he had encountered off Watch Hill on several occasions.

Though the Water Lily and Casey and Chase were reported as safe by the life saving station, they did not know until they were rescued as they were in the water. Tuesday morning, when they met a fishing boat from Stonington. They were informed of the report of their probable drowning.

Local Lacrosse. The Indians of Westerly are planning for a public observance of Columbus day.

Owing to the decided change of grade in the streets the drinking fountain at the corner of High and Canal streets has been relocated about fifty feet farther down Canal street.

DISEASE TRACED BACK TO ADAM

First Man's Poor Health Laid to Removal of Rib to Create Eve.

St. Paul, Aug. 19.—Addressing the 12th annual convention of the Associated Fraternities of America, Dr. P. A. Quick of Muskegon, Mich., traced disease back to the time of Adam and Eve, declaring even the first man's health was none too good, owing, he said, probably to the removal of the rib from which Eve was created.
